Investing in young agriculturalists to build leadership and provide solutions for global agriculture

www.nuffieldinternational.org
Introduction

Nuffield International contributes to a sustainable global food system by investing in talented people from many countries who want to develop as Nuffield Scholars and share their experiences and knowledge for industry good.

WITH A HISTORY that dates back to 1947 and values that stem from the ethos of our founder, William Morris, Lord Nuffield. Nuffield is focused on growing the most critical resource the agriculture industry has — people.

It is a unique global network of farmers and agri-professionals that focuses on:

- Personal capacity building
- Excellence in agricultural production, research, and management
- Local, national, and global thought leadership

Nuffield believes that agriculture is the foundation of a sustainable future, and for agriculture to be dynamic and remain competitive, we need leadership and expertise from those in the industry. Nuffield International supports the development of individuals in agriculture, awarding scholarships to gain the confidence, knowledge and network to step up as leaders. Our values are listed here.

Our vision is to inspire people to make a difference in the world of agriculture

“Nuffield was completely mind changing, from both a business and personal perspective. It makes you think differently and share thoughts with people from all over the world. These different ways to think made me more open-minded about future challenges I will face."

VICTOR MONSEFF DE ALMEIDA CAMPOS, 2018 SCHOLAR (BRAZIL)
Nuffield has 13 member and associate countries, a presence in 40 countries and more than 1,800 Scholars worldwide.

EACH NUFFIELD SCHOLAR steps out of their business during the year of their scholarship to explore the world to find new best practices, ideas, insight, and resources to carry back home.

Whether they are investigating production agriculture, financial and succession planning topics, market trends, or communications and outreach efforts, scholars dig into a topic of interest to them and of value to the industry. Through this journey they become experts in their area of study, build their global connections and become an invaluable resource to their community.

"My scholarship has taken me on a life changing journey, meeting incredible people infused with energy. It was a fantastic learning curve, gathering great ideas to help improve the farming sector, as well as cementing my future ambitions and motivations."

ROBBIE MOORE, 2016 SCHOLAR (UNITED KINGDOM)

"Here in the Netherlands we raise pork and our ‘Hamletz’ brand is synonymous with animal welfare, distinctively good taste and the result of special feed from our farm. We received national recognition as “Agricultural Entrepreneur of the Year 2019” and I am also a member of the Global Farmer Network."

ANNECHIEN TEN HAVE MELLEMA, 2014 SCHOLAR (THE NETHERLANDS)

"I pioneered the growing of turf, wildflower turf and vegetation mats for green roofs over 30 years ago as a result of my scholarship. I strongly encourage sustainable farming through integrated farm management and was chairman of LEAF (Linking Environment and Farming) for eight years."

STEPHEN FELL, 1983 SCHOLAR (UNITED KINGDOM)
Leadership

Nuffield Scholars achieve distinction in an extraordinary range of activities, with many gaining leadership roles in policy, agricultural research, regional community affairs and farm management. A catalyst for this career success is the Nuffield program, their scholarship experience and the enduring associations that follow.

“I founded The Chia Co to make a positive contribution to the health and wellness of the global community.”

JOHN FOSS, 2001 SCHOLAR (AUSTRALIA)

“As Coordinator for International Marketing at the Texas Department of Agriculture, I work to ensure producers and agribusinesses are included in conversations about production agriculture, food, trade, and related policy. I am a big believer in the value of transformative travel and experiential learning in agriculture, which I studied for my Ph.D. in Agricultural and Extension Education in 2018.”

JEAN LONIE, 2018 SCHOLAR (USA)

“Becoming a scholar was a life-changing experience, expanding my horizons and connecting me with a worldwide network of experts. It got me out of my comfort zone and was one of the most rewarding experiences I will ever have!”

BRIAN DOUGHERTY, 2018 SCHOLAR (USA)
Nuffield is a conduit of cross-fertilisation, enabling the mixing of people and ideas from around the world to enhance innovation and uptake of technology, and ensure a more sustainable and profitable food system.

NUFFIELD INTERNATIONAL is synonymous with:

- A respected network of over 1,800 scholars
- Quality leadership outcomes
- Advancing the UN’s Sustainable Development Goals
- Solution-based research for sustainable agriculture
- Strategic partnerships, including: World Farmers Organisation; Global Dairy Farmers; Global Forum of Agricultural Research and Innovation and the International Agri-Food Network.

“Nuffield was a unique opportunity to broaden my horizons and help rural families improve their productive, economic and overall living conditions through creating high quality produce.”

ANTONIO BUNSTER ZEGERS, 2020 SCHOLAR (CHILE)
There are three distinct segments, implemented over an 18-month period.

1. Contemporary Scholars Conference (CSC)
   A week-long program for all newly selected scholars from around the world. Scholars build networks and consider international trade and policy issues. It is a truly cultural and ambassadorial experience where leadership skills are enhanced.

2. Global Focus Program (GFP)
   The GFP offers a group travel experience spent in a number of countries. Scholars investigate production methods, supply chains, environmental issues and experience social and cultural aspects of each region. Groups of 8-10 travel over four weeks.

3. Individual Research and Report
   Scholars spend eight weeks investigating their particular research topic. A final 10,000-word report adds to the knowledge base of those in agriculture. Scholars typically also give multiple presentations on their study topic, findings, and experience.

Triennial Conference
Nuffield Scholars are scholars for life. Our Triennial International Conference enables our alumni to reunite, explore ideas and continue learning. The Triennial includes 300–400 scholars, with some attending every event since its inception in 1982. The strength of the alumni is seen in the pride with which they talk about their scholarship, whether it was five or 50 years ago.

The things I feared the most proved to be the highlights of my scholarship. I learned so much from others, even though little of our Global Focus Program was directly related to my sector of fishing. I’ve made lifelong friends that I will stay in contact with over the years to come.

TOM ROBINSON, 2018 SCHOLAR (AUSTRALIA)
